I am going to talk about our visit to Notting Hill; this place is a big area with shops, markets, etc. It is a very big and multicultural place, because there markets from Cuba, Jamaica, Ireland, Wales... and of course England.

My partners and I were walking in this street, some of us bought things, I bought a small flag of England and a scarf. Next to buy this things, we had a drink in a Spanish café, called "García". There, we talked a lot with the waiter, absolutely, in Spanish. Later we waited for our teacher and all together came back to the hotel. I had a great time.

Today we had a very interesting day. We got up early, we had breakfast and we took the underground to the Tower of London, it was very nice. There we saw a lot of armouries, shields, crowns...

After that, we took a boat and we sailed in the river Thames, we could see all the main monuments of London (Big Ben, Parliament, London Eye...) After that we had lunch in an Italian restaurant and then we went to do shopping and I bought a T-Shirt. In the afternoon we walked a lot and we went to Harrods and the places around it. I had a great time.

Today was our last day in London, and our first day in Brighton too. In the morning we packed our suit cases. After that we took the underground and we went to the British Museum, in my opinion, one of the best museums in the world.

In this museum we saw some things about some periods of the history.

When we finished seeing the museum, some partners and I had lunch in an Italian restaurant. After that we went to Camden Town, a very very big market with a lot of shops from different countries. At 16:00 o'clock we took the bus to go to Brighton.

There we had two hours of free time with some of our English partners. I had a great time again.

Today was a nice day. In morning we went to Newhaven fort. It was used by the British to protect them in the two world wars. I enjoyed so much in this place because it is near to the coast and we could see the sea, the beaches, etc. We had lunch in the fort and we walked around it. After that we went to take the bus and it let us in one beach. From this beach we walked to Brighton and there we went to the theme park and we went to some attractions. We had a great time.

Today was one of the funniest days. In morning we went to Stammer Park, a very big zone with grass and a lot of places to have a great time.

We did a picnic to have lunch. After that we played Rounders. Then we took the bus to come back to Brighton. At 19:00 we had dinner and then we painted ceramic. I painted a cup. I had a great time.

Today was a very hard day. I am going to explain why: We woke up early and we took a bus to go to Seven Sisters. This one is a spectacular natural area. It is complicated to imagine how it is because is very big and amazing.

The weather was bad because it was raining and windy a lot. When we finished the visit we had lunch, later we took the bus and we came back to the hostel. I had a great time.

Today was the completest day of among all days that we stayed in Brighton. We got up early and we took the bus to go to Falmer School. There we have four lessons, each one more interesting than the last:

- Drama
- Computers
- Music
- Kitchen

When we finished the classes we went to some extra activities, I played basketball but there were more options. After that we came back to the hostel. Then we went to play Scalextric and Miguel won.

It was really tired.

Today was a sad day, because it was our last day in England. In the morning we went to Lewes, a typical English village. There we went to a museum and to the commercial street. In the afternoon we went to Falmer School and we had a party. It was very emotive.
